who we are

The Architecture and Design Exchange (AD EX) is home to AIA Dallas, the professional organization for architects in North Texas supporting professional development, education, advocacy, and programing; and the Architecture and Design Foundation, a non-profit organization presenting public programs on the importance of architecture through exhibitions, walking tours, scholarships, and more. AD EX is quickly becoming the central space in the city for spurring discussions about walkability, mobility, historic preservation, affordable housing, economic development, and other civic challenges related to architecture and urban design that impact the city.

Located in Republic Center at the corner of St. Paul and Pacific, across from Pacific Plaza Park, we offer an ideal location for a number of different social, corporate and nonprofit events, design-related gatherings, ceremonies, and receptions.

“My professional networking group has always been impressed by many facets of the AIA for our meetings – the interior design, the technology services but most importantly the service each and every time by Rebecca and her team. All top shelf.

Our company held our annual State of the Firm at AD EX. We selected AD EX because it provided a spacious area, centrally located, and within walking distance of our office space.

The Lobby and Conference room are bright and open, and the view into Dallas is great! They had the traveling exhibit from UTA School of Architecture in the lobby area, where we were able to view all the fabulous pieces of artwork. To add to our experience, the customer service from their staff was excellent. They were very welcoming and accommodating. The park once completed will be an added plus to the area.

Parking Packages are available, please contact our Venue Rental Liaison, Rebecca Guillen, at rguillen@aiadallas.org

AIA Dallas Allied Members and Non-Profit agencies will receive a special discounted rate.
Where should I park?
We have created a map with directions for valet parking at Republic Center and for taking the DART to the AD EX. However, we also have more information regarding additional surrounding parking garages. We can also work with you to create a Parking Package that works for your event.

Who is responsible for set-up and breakdown?
The renter is responsible for both set-up and breakdown.

Can we advertise on your website?
For more information regarding advertising, please contact AIA Dallas Communication and Government Relations Director, Katie Hitt, at khitt@aiadallas.org.

What is included in the rental?
Laptop if needed, projector or plasma, white board, cork board (boardroom), and coffee, tea, & filtered water service.

Do you have a list of local, or preferred, caterers that will deliver to the AD EX?
Yes, please contact the Venue Rental Liaison, Rebecca Guillen, at rguillen@aiadallas.org, for more details.

Would it be possible to include guided walking tours of downtown?
For more information regarding guided walking tours, please contact our AD EX Program Director, Greg Brown, at gbrown@dallasadex.org.

Can vendors that sponsor the event have space to showcase their products?
Yes, if the renter allows, but only during their event.

What exhibitions will be on display during my rental?
For more information regarding exhibitions, please contact our AD EX Program Director, Greg Brown, at gbrown@dallasadex.org.
